

Big Things Are Comin'

Packed our bags and left Not knowing what was ahead Had a dream in mind you were on our side so we jumped on in just to go for a ride how could have we been so blind?

Now here I am in California my folks say, I tried to warn ya yea it might be fit to blame it on my youth but I have no fear, ain't that the truth i am an artist

Why, were my hopes so high
You were hypnotizing wasting all this time (these things take time) hearing the same old line you let it go bye
oh big things are comin' But no they're not coming tonight

As I lay here empty handed I'm pretty sick and tired of the same old shit and the same old lines
I think I've heard it over a billion times

Why, were my hopes so high
You were hypnotizing
wasting all this time (these things take time)
hearing the same old line
you let it go bye
oh but big things are comin' and no they're not coming tonight

Why did I even comply... with this fucking guy I always wanted to trust to you oh no, no I'd put my life down for this and I'm not going to stop till I find What I'm meaning to find A serene peace of mind i never thought you'd be lying I just want this, put my life down for this ahh oh
